Dear Mr. Gates:

Thank you very much indeed for making time to come to Chicago to visit with and inform the members of our Chicago Committee. This senior invitational group represents a large share of the most influential business and other professional leadership of the city and surrounding region. This was a good opportunity to inform and educate important people here. At the same time, we realize there are many pressures on you, especially now, and so we are particularly grateful you accepted the invitation and made the trip. We run a very extensive program here, including other specialized invitational meetings, often involving the academic community, as well as more general public education. We would value an opportunity to have you back with us for a different group when your schedule permits. Please consider this a standing invitation.

Sincerely,

Arthur Cyr

Mr. Robert M. Gates
Acting Director of Central Intelligence
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D.C. 20505

Dear Mr. Gates,

Following my recent conversations with Mrs. Mary Evelyn Dean it is my pleasure to confirm your appearance as a featured speaker before the Chicago Committee on May 5, 1987, from 12:00 noon to 1:45 p.m. Your appearance will be an important and interesting addition to our program.

We ask our speakers to address the group and then respond to questions from the members. The luncheon schedule will be as follows: 12:00 - 12:20, reception and informal discussion; 12:20 - 1:00, luncheon; 1:00 - 1:30, prepared remarks; 1:30 - 1:55, discussion and questions. All sessions of the Chicago Committee are strictly off the record, allowing guests to speak with absolute candor. I have enclosed for your information material about the Chicago Committee and about the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations in general.

We look forward to welcoming you to Chicago. It will be an honor and a pleasure to include you in our program.

Sincerely,

Anne N. McIntosh

MEMORANDUM FOR: Acting Director of Central Intelligence

FROM: George V. Lauder
Director, Public Affairs Office

SUBJECT: Trip to Chicago

1. Action Requested: None. This is background information for your trip to Chicago on Tuesday, 5 May, to address the Chicago Committee. meet with the CHICAGO TRIBUNE editorial board [redacted]

25X1

2. Address the CHICAGO COMMITTEE: You are requested to be at the main entrance of the Chicago Club at 81 East Van Buren Street at 1200 where you will be met by Chicago Committee Program Officer Anne McIntosh who will escort you to the 8th floor for the reception in the Buckingham Room and luncheon at 1220 in the John Black Room. Robert P. McNeill Executive Vice President of Stein Rowe & Farnham Investment Firm and Chairman of the meeting will be seated at your right, and he will introduce you. John E. Rielly President of the Chicago World Affairs Council will be on your left. (See Chicago Committee tab for biographies.) Your remarks are scheduled to begin at approximately 1300. You have been asked to speak for 30 minutes and allow 25 minutes for Questions and Answers. A podium and microphone will be available near the head table, and your remarks will be taped by this group for our historical files. Adjournment is at approximately 1400.

The audience will be made up of 40 influential business, financial, academic, and other professional leaders from Chicago and the surrounding region. (See Chicago Committee tab for list of attendees.) Although almost all Committee members are US citizens, the Committee is unable to say for sure whether a small number of members are naturalized US citizens or remain foreign nationals. Since the citizenship of several Japanese, UK, Italian, and West Germans is in question, foreign nationals could be in the audience. According to the Committee, none of their members represent foreign governments. Although the Chicago Committee officers state that all sessions are off-the-record, an event that includes foreign nationals cannot be considered off-the-record by our definition. Working members of the press will not be present. I will remain throughout the meeting. [redacted]

Although the head table seating is subject to change, as of this date, you will be seated with the following (see tab for biographies and related news items):

John E. Rielly	President, The Chicago Council on Foreign Affairs
Robert P. McNeill	Executive Vice President, Stein Rowe and Farnham
John D. Gray	Chairman Emeritus, Hartmarx
J. Douglas Gray	Managing Director, Morgan Stanley & Co.
Edward H. Levi	Former US Attorney General 1975 - 1977 President Emeritus, University of Chicago
Jeffrey Short, Jr.	President, J. R. Short Milling Company
Robert K. Wilmouth	President, National Futures Association

The Chicago Committee's membership of approximately 570 is made up of senior business and professional leaders from the Chicago area who are concerned with problems confronting the United States. The Committee meets regularly to hear distinguished US and foreign leaders as well as leading personalities in business, the press, and academic circles discuss vital issues affecting international relations and foreign policies. Recent speakers have been Abba Eban, Ted Turner, Senator Richard C. Lugar, Senator David Durenberger, Ambassador from South Africa to the US Herbert Buekes, Chinese Finance Minister Wang Bingqian, Chairman of Fiat Gianni Agnelli, Assistant Secretary for European and Canadian Affairs Rozanne L. Ridgway, British Foreign Secretary Sir Geoffrey Howe, and Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff Admiral William Crowe. (See brochure in back of book for further information including membership list.) John McMahon spoke to this group in April 1983.

The Committee is sponsored by the broader-based Chicago Council on Foreign Relations, a non-partisan organization founded in 1922 that has a membership of approximately 15,000. The mission of the Council is to inform area citizens of significant international issues and their bearing on American foreign policy through addresses by leading statesmen, discussion groups, and other activities. Research activities are sponsored in foreign policy, international relations, international economics, and major political developments within countries. (See back of book for the brochure "American Public Opinion and U.S. Foreign Policy 1987.") The Council also maintains data from public opinion surveys.

3. Meet with CHICAGO TRIBUNE Editorial Board: You will meet with editor of the editorial page Jack Fuller and other members of the editorial board from 1415 - 1515 at the CHICAGO TRIBUNE offices, 435 North Michigan Avenue. We are to check-in at the Tower Lobby entrance with security chief Ken Miller

FROM: George V. Lauder
Director, Public Affairs Office

SUBJECT: Invitation to Address the Chicago Committee of the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations

1. Action Requested: Accept or decline an invitation to address the members of the Chicago Committee of the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations luncheon meeting at the Chicago Club in Chicago on a mutually convenient date. The program year runs from September through June.

2. Background: Mr. James F. Beré, Chairman and CEO of the Borg-Warner Corporation and Chairman of the Chicago Committee, has invited you to speak to their membership on important issues in international affairs. The suggested format is 30 minutes of remarks followed by 20 minutes of Questions and Answers. According to Mr. Beré, all sessions are "off-the-record." You could expect an audience of 40 - 50 influential business, financial, academic, and other professional leaders from Chicago and the surrounding region. Although a publisher could be present, there will be neither working members of the press nor foreign nationals in the audience.

The Chicago Committee's membership of approximately 570 is made up of senior business and professional leaders from the Chicago area who are concerned with problems confronting the United States.
